

Monday night

Dear Jimmy,

We came home from the cabin this afternoon in order to avoid the heavy traffic. The traffic was very heavy in the mountains Friday night. Just about every other car was pulling a trailer. More than that I think because I was sure there must be a trailer convention some place. Ruthie and Jack were up also and Jackie folks came up Sunday and stayed overnight. The weather was just perfect.

I have been studying Swedish because I would like to ~~know~~ ^{know} a little something before the class starts. So far it doesn't seem too difficult.

I had the letter with the check in it already to mail

when we left for the cabin Friday night and then forgot to stop at the post office so I didn't get it mailed until today.

Jennie will find out this Thursday where she is to have the operation for the ovarian cist. She is not looking forward to it, but she does love her new house.

I am going to write to Gail now and will talk to you soon.

Love,
Mom.
